Astro One Frame Challenge

It was the 20th July 1969 when US astronaut Neil Armstrong took that one small step, a step so marvellous that 600 million people across the world tuned in to watch. This was one of the most significant events of our time and the start of hundreds of space expeditions. NASA supplied us with amazing images of the moon landing while astronauts Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin gave us some memorable quotes.

In order to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Apollo 11's journey to the moon and back the Bunbury 2019 National One Frame Exhibition includes a One Frame Astro Philatelic and Numismatic Challenge.

Your One Frame Astro exhibit can encompass any philatelic or numismatic material related to space exploration. It might be a study of the scientific and technical progress achieved in the conquest of space, chronologically recording the relevant events within the different programs or it might be about stratospheric research, early rocketry and the precursors to the various types of spacecraft.

Why not give it a go? Put together a 15 page one frame exhibit and enter the Bunbury 2019 Astro Challenge (for coin/medallion entries, a one case exhibit). For more details, check our prospectus.

Palmares (Awards Dinner & Prize Presentations)

The Palmares will be held on site at the Show. Ticket prices and details will be included in our next Bulletin.

Souvenirs

Souvenirs are an important aspect of any Show. At this time some details are still being finalised. A full listing, together with Order Form will be included in Bulletin No. 2.

Bus Tour

We are looking to arrange a bus tour, so if you are bringing a spouse or partner who is not a collector, they might like to consider a tour of the surrounding countryside. Full details will be in our next Bulletin.

Visit Bunbury and the South West

Before or after the Show – visit some of Bunbury’s attractions, take a holiday and/or tour the South West. Bring your family. Plan an extended stay to allow more time to explore this wonderful region. Contact the Bunbury Visitor Centre [(08) 9792 7205] to explore the full range of possibilities.

Bunbury – the City of 3 Waters - is a vibrant seaside port city undergoing a renaissance with a massive event calendar and an ever-growing collection of independent boutiques, small bars and produce-driven cafes. Only minutes away are the green pastures, vineyards, undulating hills (and a mountain), fertile valleys and quaint towns of the Geopraphe region.

The Bunbury Lighthouse is a striking landmark. It stands some 25 metres above the ground and its light is visible from 27 kilometres away. The original Lighthouse on Marlston Hill served for 33 years until 1903 when increased trade created the need for a more modern facility. It was moved to its present site in 1971.

A friendly pod of more than 100 wild bottlenose dolphins frequents the calm waters of Koombana Bay. Koombana Bay is just two kilometres east of Bunbury and is one of few places in the world where you can enjoy a magical encounter by choosing to join a swim tour, a wildlife cruise or a ‘meet and greet’ in the dolphin interaction zone at the shoreline.

The Mangrove Boardwalk takes you on a unique walk through the remnants of mangroves that used to grow some 20,000 years ago. Located on Leschenault Estuary, the boardwalk allows a close up view of the unusual vegetation that now grows within the mangroves. Bring along your binoculars to spot over 60 species of water birds that inhabit the area.

Bunbury – The Gateway to the South West

One of the world's biodiversity hot-spots, Australia's South West is also one of the most varied holiday experiences. It's all here – world-class wine and food, stunning walking trails and beaches, world-famous surf breaks, whale watching, dolphin encounters, ancient caves, forests of timber giants and captivating heritage.

From Busselton and the picturesque Margaret River wine region, to Denmark and Albany on the south coast, the South West enjoys a temperate climate. The winter months are pleasantly cool and mild – perfect for enjoying the great outdoors and sampling one of Australia's most exciting wine regions.

Venture through wineries, breweries, orchards and farm gates - this is real farm-to-fork, paddock-to-plate country. Seek out nature, with miles and miles of national park and state forest, five major river systems, rare Tuart trees, bountiful dams, and natural waterholes. Hike the Bibbulmun Track, one of the world's great walks, or tackle the Munda Biddi on your mountain bike. If the deep dark forest, boutique wineries and old pubs don't excite, then the sweet orchards dripping with fruit will delight.

The South West is not only about wine. In recent years many boutique breweries have established themselves in the area. So if you fancy a beer (or cider) and something different, you could do worse than check out the Cheeky Monkey on Caves Road in Wilyabrup.

Further down Caves Road ..... 20 minutes South of Margaret River town (approx 90 minutes from Bunbury)

Lake Cave is a stunning pristine chamber deep beneath the earth. Inside the cave a tranquil lake reflects delicate formations that will take your breath away. Visitors descend a staircase in time, gazing up at towering karri trees from the floor of the sunken forest, before entering one of the most beautiful limestone caves in Western Australia.

Five minutes South of Lake Cave is the gorgeous Boranup Karri Forest. The Karri Lookout on the eastern side of Caves Road is an ideal spot to enjoy this amazing forest. The sight of these enormous trees won't be the only thing to amaze you. This forest floor is a feast for the senses with wildflowers, the sounds of native birds and the fresh smell of eucalypt.
