COMMENTS

- The Archive is still a work in progress. As long as the WAPC continues, there will always be records to add.
- Accordion blocks have been added to several web pages. They are essentially drop-down boxes that enable viewers to select the info that they want to read without having to scroll so much. They are versatile, allowing me to change font type, font size, colour – well, almost anything in each block.
- The new sub-page: WA Clubs, Past & Present – Snapshots, provides a brief overview of when each club in WA was formed, where it met, plus whether it still exists. There is capacity to add more information, but I suggest that we avoid trying to create a comprehensive historical account for each club – just snapshots of key info.
- I would like the Council's permission to enter the WAPC website as an exhibit entry. It would need to be in Literature class. It would be good to get some external feedback, plus promote the website more broadly.
- On 17 January 2025, an email was sent to Glen, John D and me from an American man. It thanks the WAPC for the website. The email is copied on the next page. A link to a US website is mentioned; would you like me to add that link to the WAPC website?

Thanks to the members of the Western Australian Philatelic Council for sharing your philatelic resources.. they've been a big help! This afternoon I helped a group of students with a United States Postal Service project they're working on for their US History and Government class. Their teacher asked them to discuss when the USPS was established, the role of the President and the Board of Governors, and how mail delivery has evolved over time. They also need to be able to identify the informative parts of a stamp and explain why stamps are an important part of culture legacy! You listed some wonderful websites for the kiddos to check out and include in their project! We really appreciate the help! I'm not sure if you've seen it, but the kids also really enjoyed this reading on The Second Continental Congress and the U.S. Postal System... <https://wyomingllcattorney.com/Wyoming-Virtual-Office/US-Postal-System-Business>

It's a fantastic overview of the history behind the US Postal System, covering the Fairbanks Tavern (the 1st post office), the Hutchinson Affair, and how the evolution of technology led to the modern postal system we use today. My student Kelsey was the one to find it. She didn't see it listed, but thought you and other stamp enthusiasts would enjoy reading through it.

I know you're probably busy playing catch up from the holidays, but can you take a minute to add it to your new collectors page for her? www.wapc.org.au/new-collectors/ (Unless you think it would fit better on your links page?) I'd love to share this with Kelsey's teacher if you use it! Midterms are in 2 weeks and she could really use some extra credit. Please get back to me when you have a chance!

Thank youuu :)
