

Fun with Stamps – 12

The Post Office Game

This is a good running game!

How to play:

1. Organise players into equal teams of about six people.
2. Set up a chairs for each team, about 12 metres away from where they are standing.
3. Give each player a name, for example:
 - stamp
 - postman
 - letterbox
 - letter
 - postcode
 - mail
 - bike
4. Use the same names for each team. So if you have three teams, for example, you will have three 'letters'.
5. The leader tells a made-up story using those words.
6. Players listen carefully for their word to be mentioned in the story.
7. When a word is mentioned - say 'bike' - the three people with the name 'bike' run to their post offices (chairs), back around their teams, and return to the front of their team and STAMP their feet.
8. The first one back scores a point for their team.
9. When 'POST OFFICE' is mentioned in the story, the whole team must make a chain and run around the post office and home again and stamp their feet.
10. The team with the most points wins.
